About This Game

BUILD UP YOUR OWN GAMES EMPIRE

Form your own game studio in the early 1980s starting in a small garage.

Develop your own game concepts, create a team and develop megahit video games.

Research new technologies, train your staff, upgrade your offices, moving up to bigger and better locations.

Expand your business and dominate the world market for video games!

- Manage the various aspects of your company

From being able to produce your own games in-house to buying up your competitors, the game allows for total control of your game company and the direction you wish to take it in.

- Develop the games of your dreams

You are given the freedom to develop the game of your dreams.

Develop or buy a someone else's game engine and create a simple Platformer or the next big MMORPG. You can set your main focus on graphics, sound, technique and gameplay.

Choose between core and casual gamers as the targeted audience for your game.

Should your game have Copy Protection? Want to use an official Movie License for your game? This only a few of the possibilities for you to develop your own groundbreaking, best selling game.

- Build your office from scratch

You can arrange your office by your own imagination.
Build development, server, training, or production rooms and your own executive office.
Place some desks, cabinets and plants to keep your employees happy.
There are a lot of objects and rooms to create a personalized and effective office.
Build a customer support office to keep the fans happy, build warehouses and production rooms to make and produce your own games in bulk, setting the prices and deciding what to include.

The graphics look really good. There is not much to complain about. The sound is the best I've ever heard. This is the new standard in sound! The control is perfection. The best controls I have seen in a game. This game is a smash hit! A real candidate for game of the year!
